- 1. Look at the new SB and highlight any vocabulary you already know remember that there is a difference between knowing it and recognizing it! Then as you become more confident, you'll be able to highlight more and more.
- Use the links in Google Classroom to go on Quizlet to practise the new vocabulary and

4. Make up sentences from the SBs, type them into Google translate to hear the pronunciation and repeat. Try pausing for 10 seconds after you've heard it and repeating it in your head again and again before saying it again out loud or writing it down. Check it afterwards - how close were you?

add to as you go along to make one big set. Do the tests frequently (don't forget to

5. Record yourself saying the sentences and compare it to the pronunciation on Google Translate.

- 6. Create five or more sentences from the SB and swap them with a friend via email, WhatsApp, Messenger etc. You can then translate each other's sentences. You could make some that don't make sense so they have to spot the silly ones.
- 7. Get someone to test you. For example, you stand or sit at the top of the stairs. Someone at the bottom asks you a question e.g. they could say or spell the French word or phrase and you translate it into English. If you get it right, you move down a step. If you get it wrong you go up a step. You could make it into a PE workout by having to jog on the spot or do star jumps until you get it right!

10. Write a text using the SB and then translate it but make a few mistakes. Swap with a friend, spot the mistranslations and correct them.
